FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Glenview Park Golf Club Renovation Project Complete

Course Tentatively Scheduled to Open Early/Mid-Year 2015

GLENVIEW, IL, December 3, 2014 – The Glenview Park District recently announced the completion of the major components of the Glenview Park Golf Club renovation project. This was one of many key initiatives as part of the Glenview Park District’s strategic plan. The project included significant stormwater management work in cooperation with the Village of Glenview and major course improvements throughout the golf club. While there is still work to do in the parking lot and some minor springtime items scheduled for the course itself, the significant components of the project are done.

The opening date for the course will depend on the kind of winter and spring weather we experience.

“While we experienced a challenging construction season including seven major rain events of one inch or more and an early start to winter, the project has exceeded everyone’s expectations,” commented Robert Quill, Superintendent of Leisure Services at the Glenview Park District. “We can’t wait for the Glenview golf community to experience all the improvements made to the course.”

For more information and to keep tabs on the re-opening date at the Glenview Park Golf Club, please call 847-724-0250 or visit www.golfglenview.com.

About the Glenview Park Golf Club

The 18-hole Glenview Park Golf Club, at 800 Shermer Road, offers 6,133 yards of golf from the longest tees for a par of 70. Operated by the Glenview Park District since 1955, the course has three bent grass tee boxes on every hole. While adding beauty, the tree-lined fairways also increase the course's difficulty, rewarding golfers who strive for accurate, well-placed shots.
